Saturday, October 1, 1870. How will Confederation Affect our Usury Laws.

Because Moses interdicted the Hebrews from taking usury from each other, and because Christians inherit the Hebrew Bible, and have considered many of the provisions of the Levitical code still binding on them as part of the moral principles that ought to govern society, most so called Christian nations have, at one time or the other, prohibited usury-or limited it to a certain amount-and have made it a misdemeanor to take more than the per centage fixed by law. How they have managed to get up a compromise between conscience and interest, we will not wait to discuse; but it is very certain that Mammon has got the better of Ethics and Divinity, even among the most Christian consciences of the most Christian nations. Mammon has succeeded as well that it would be almost peeded so well that it would be almost ible to find a person who would refuse to take small interest, at least. Now, in Canada they limit the rate of the interest,—we presume, out of considera-tion for the borrower's pocket rather than out of regard for his soul. The limita-tion there is likely to affect our pockets here, as soon as we shall have become part of the Dominion; and, possibly, in different ways affect the rate of discounts and loans here. Union with Canada, it appears to us, is not likely, however, to operate very injuriously to the borrower; and for the good and sufficient reason that no bank can legally collect more than seven per cent per annum. On bills of exchange, higher rates of discount may be charged, up to a fixed limit. Canada has, nevertheless, adopted the clever expedient of allowing the banks to charge as much as they please, with. out being subject to a criminal prosecu. tion : but not to collect more than seven per cent by legal process. this country, the maximum rate of in-terest collectable by law is twelve per cent, except in certain cases; and in Ware, Articles of Virtu, Globe and such instances the court before whom Gold Fish. the case shall have been brought will be competent to fix the amount in excess of twelve per cent. So our Usury Law is substantially like that of Canada; but not exactly. We do not therefore see how any general injury can be done by fixing the legal rate of interest at a lower amount than it is now. The Canadian Usury Laws when extended here may affect a few private capitalists; but the banks that losn most to commercial people and will not be seriously affected. with numerous branches might have an advantage over smaller banking compan- daily edition of the STANDARD one day ROBERTSON & FARR ies; but practically it would be scarcely perceptible in this country.

Cheese Factories.

Whilst agriculture is prominently before the public, it may not be amiss to offer a suggestion about cheese. Anyone who visited the Agricultural Exhibition, in the expectation of seeing cheese equal to that produced elsewhere, must have gone away disappointed; for the only samples shown were far inferior to what is found usually on everbody's table. Besides that, the quantity of cheese made in the Colony is a mere nothing. The imports, however, in 1868, was 60,000 pounds, at a cost of $10,000; and in 1869, 40,000 pounds, worth $8,000.

Now, it appears to us that this amount of money might be kept in the Colony, if Passengers by Regular Stage must leave Victoria by FRIDAY'S "ENTERPRISE."

F. J. BARNARD. a little more enterprise were shown our farmers in the production of cheese. We know, however, of no more certain way in which to supply home demand with good cheese, than to start a Cheese Factory in every district where there are enough farmers residing, contiguous to each other, to make the undertaking possible and profitable. In a district like that surrounding the environs of Victoria, extending out as far as Elk Lake, we see no difficulty whatever in making a Cheese Factory a success. In the Eastern Prov-inces and States, Cheese Factories are now as common as grist-mills ouce were; and already it has been found necessary to assist them by suitable legislation, to protect those who sell the milk as well s those who make the cheese. We offer CHRONOMETERS & WATCHES the suggestion to our country readers, believing that a good cheese-maker would be hansomely remunerated for his outlay of labor and capital in starting a Cheese Factory, where all might send their milk and take cheese in return.

More War.

The news that Russia intends to de clare war unless Prussia will accept peace without conquest is startling, The telegram has not been confirmed; but the probabilities are that it is true substantially. Nothing is more natural than to conclude that neither Russia, England, nor Austria, will sit listlessly by and see Prussia go beyond a just resistance to TOWN PROPERTY France's declaration of war. To under-take to dismember France, place a King on the Spanish Throne, and change enon the Spanish Throne, and change entirely the balance of power in Europe, is something that neither Eng and nor Russia is prepared for Hance Russia's Russia's prepared for Hance Russia's prepared f Russia is prepared for. From the day of the coup d'etat he at once the most determined and the ablest antagonist of the Emperor, and indeed his opposition may be said to have begun from the election of Louis Napoleon to the Presidency. Elected as a member of the General Council of the Department of the Loire and Rhone, he refused to take the oath to support the new constitution. In 1858 he excited the liveliest sensation throughout France by his bold defence of O sini for his attempt on the life of the Emperor, in which the intrepid advocate proclaimed his unalter-able attachment to free institutions. In the same year he became a member of the Corps Legislatif, and soon afterward, in April, 1859, he vehemently exposed the inconsistency of the Imperial Government in seeking to estab-lish by the war with Austria that freedom for Lombardy and Venice which had been overthrown in France. In 1864 he made a severe attack on the policy of the Imperial for the friendless. Government in the Mexican war.

Leon Gambetta, the Minister of the Interior, was born in Cahors, Oct. 30, 1838, of a Genoese family. He studied law, and was admitted to the bar, in Paris, in 1859. The affair which rendered his name popular in Paris was that which attended the subscrip ion lists opened by several journals, after the scenes at the Cemetery of Montmartre, the Journal l'Emancipation, published at Tou-louse, gave rise in the south to enthusiastic demonstration in favor of the young advocate. At the general elections M. Gambetts presented himself simultaneously as a candidate for Paris and Marseilles. He embraced ance and his impetuous eloquence at the public meetings of the electors. He was elected both in the First District of Paris and in the First of the Boucher-du-Rhone at Marseilles. He chose to sit for the latter place.

Ireland, there is no public house. The town was founded by a Mr. Richardson, a member of the society of friends. He set up a spin-ning mill, which now employs 3,000 hands; yet there is no public house in the place; the working people are all sober and orderly; and there is not a policeman in the town.—English paper, Sept. 3rd.

Cardinal Cullen orders, by letter from Rome, that prayers be offered in the Catholic Churches of Ireland for the success of the French arms. Now, then, we shall be able in a violent eruption, throwing columns of dense black smoke 200 feet high, and cattering ashes and cinders for miles around its base. But it is not an uncommon thing for an unmitigated sinner to believe himself a saint, and of course in this case both sides Jules Simon, Minister of Public Instruc-tion, was born at Lorient in 1814. In early life he was engaged in teaching, meeting with extraordinary success, and being decorated in 1845. His political life began in 1848, when he was elected a Deputy from the Cotes. "God of Battles," who we most firmly be-lieve to be the Devil, if he finds time to atcations, will probably enswer briefly "mind your own business." To our irreverent mind, the supposition that the Ruler of the Universe can be expected to aid and abet the petty bickerings of nations is blasphemy, pure and simple: we can hardly, therefore, conceive what it may be to a reverentially inclined person. But one side has generally more of right than the other: we must incline to the degree of the case but for
